Save Money — Beat the December Price Increase!

If you are the director of a Limited company, in a partnership or are self-employed, your personal tax return is due on 31 January 2015. You are strongly advised to supply your records, bank statements, receipts etc. to us as soon as possible so that you are not caught in a last-minute rush — Taxfile has several hundred tax returns to complete, so the earlier the better please. Some limited company 'year end' accounts will also fall due on 31 December 2014 or 31 January 2015. For those businesses, it's exactly the same message — time is of the essence.

As an added incentive, if you get your accounting records to Taxfile before 1st December, you will beat the December price rise. Taxfile has held its prices for several years now and occasionally we have to catch up with inflation and the ever-increasing costs of operating a business in London. The price increase represents only a 1% annual increase since the last update but you still have time to avoid it if you act reasonably fast and, as outlined above, this will also avoid bottlenecks as we rapidly approach the busiest time in the tax year*.

Call 0208 761 2268 or 0208 761 8000 or use the links at the foot of this email to contact us or book an appointment on-line.

Taxfile would like to thank its customers for their loyalty and custom throughout the years, and for their understanding when occasionally we have to make price increases.

(For tax returns, figures and records are required for the year ending 5 April 2014).

* Early Bird Reduction

 If you miss the December 1st deadline, don't worry because we're offering a 5% 'Early Bird' reduction on prevailing Taxfile prices if you submit all your records to us before the end of December. (Don't forget to bring in all your receipts and records please).*

Happy With Our Service?

Write a testimonial & receive £10 off!

If you are happy with our service we'd love to hear more about your experience with Taxfile as we are putting together a page of customer testimonials on our website(s). They need only be short if you haven't got much time, but longer comments are fine too! As a thank you, you'll receive a £10 off voucher which you can offset against your next Taxfile bill. Please submit your testimonial to www.taxfile.co.uk/happy-customer/ or email it to web@taxfile.co.uk. Many thanks!

If you're not happy, of course please let us know right away and we can work out how to put things right. We want customers to be happy!

Save time on your bookwork, at no extra cost

At Taxfile we know that bookwork isn't your top priority so we're currently implementing a new system that will save you time on your bookwork (without costing you a penny extra) and also allow us to provide a better service to you.

Bankstream is a new service that, with your permission, enables us to securely collect electronic copies of your bank statements directly from your bank so as to make the analysis of your expenses and income much easier and faster. You continue to receive your statements as normal but no longer need to provide us with copies of them. Bankstream does not give us access to your banking account so doesn't give us the ability to create, amend or affect transactions on your account (no passwords or PINs will ever be requested from you — it's completely safe). It simply gives us an additional electronic copy of your historical bank transactions so as to make accounting analysis easier and faster.

The Bankstream service itself is FREE to Taxfile customers (we absorb the cost).

Bankstream

If you are interested in spending less time on your bookwork, ask us for a Bankstream Authority Form.
